Five Passengers and Motorman Are Badly Injured in a Collision at Midnight.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—A Hollywood trolley car, leaving this city shortly before midnight last night, collided with a work train at Vine and Prospect streets in Hollywood while running at the rate of twenty miles an hour, demolishing the whole front of the car and severely injuring five passengers and the motorman. The lack of a headlight on the work train is said to have been responsible for the accident. Following are the names of the injured: Mrs. Verna S. Beane, a guest at the Hollywood Hotel, right leg broken, right arm badly cut, face cut in several places.

TRIAL OF SENATOR BORAH FOR LAND FRAUD OPENS

Late Governor Steunenberg Named in the Indictments, Which Involve 108 Prominent Residents of Idaho.

BOISE, Sept. 23.—In beginning the work of empanelling a jury to try Senator Borah today, District Attorney Luck announced that former Governor Frank Steunenberg was one of the men indicted with Senator Borah for conspiracy to defraud the government out of timber land. Steunenberg is represented in the indictment as "John Doe."

The case of United States Senator William E. Borah, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of valuable Idaho timber lands, was called today before Judge Edward Whitson in the United States District court. The prominence of Senator Borah in the politics of the State, his personal popularity in this, his home town, the leading part he took in the prosecution of William D. Haywood, who was charged with the murder of Governor Steunenberg and the fact that more than one hundred well known residents of South Idaho are alleged to be involved with him in the so-called conspiracy, combined to attract an interest to the proceedings against him practically equal to that which marked the first of the Western Federation of Miners' trial here.

HAVE REBATE EVIDENCE AGAINST THE OIL TRUST

Trial of Standard Octopus Is Resumed Today With the Treasurer on the Stand.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—It is understood that Frank B. Kellogg, the government's counsel in its suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company of New Jersey has important evidence in his possession bearing on alleged relationship between railroad rebates and the profits of the corporation in the last eight years. It is also said that this phase of Mr. Kellogg's case is being reserved until the line of questioning he pursued last week is finished. To back his reported evidence as to rebates, Mr. Kellogg has had subpoenas served on several railroad men, among them being Jefferson Justice, assistant controller of the Pennsylvania railroad; R. W. Downing, ex-controller of the Pennsylvania lines and W. T. McCulloch, auditor of freight accounts of the New York Central. They have been ordered to produce certain papers dealing with the transportation of oil.

RELATES CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE ALLEGED BRIBERY

Real Battle Is Expected to Begin Tomorrow When Abe Ruef Is to Testify.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Crowds fought in vain effort to reach Judge Dunne's court room in which Judge Lawlor called the case of Tires L. Ford this afternoon. Entrance to the Temple Island was practically impossible, and when the bailiff appeared with the jury it was only by most strenuous efforts that they were able to force their way in. It was finally decided to hold court upstairs, and after a short delay the jury was taken to the main room in which the trial is being conducted. The big temple was crowded, even the gallery being jammed.

Eugene E. Schmitz, former mayor, was one of the first arrivals and was seated with Ford's attorneys. There was a hearty hand clasp with Patrick Calhoun and the attorneys. The cases of Mullally and Calhoun were continued until Monday, October 9. The case of Ruef was also continued until the same date, as was the case of Schmitz. Judge Lawlor then ordered the Ford trial to proceed. Henevy rose for the prosecution.

HENEY MAKES HIS ADDRESS TO JURY. "Gentlemen of the jury," said he, "I wish to state the nature of this case, so that you will understand it without difficulty. The specific charge is that the defendant paid to Thomas F. Loneragan $4000 for his vote in connection with the franchise for the overhead wire system. We do not intend to show that Tires L. Ford paid this money himself, but we intend to prove that Supervisor Wilson paid the money to Loneragan. Wilson was given the money by Gallagher, who in turn received the money from Ruef. We expect to prove to you that the sum of $55,000 was expended. On May 14 Wilson introduced the petition for the ordinance, signed by Patrick Calhoun. The ordinance was passed to print the same day and on May 21 came up, and was passed unanimously.

SAYS $200,000 WAS PAID TO RUEF. "Ruef met Mullally and Patrick Calhoun a number of times prior to the

SAVES WATCH AFTER BEATING

Victim of Footpad Gives Up $2.50, but Keeps Valuables.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Edward Clinton of 490 Fourth avenue was held up, beaten and robbed by an unidentified footpad on Fourth avenue near Ft. Lobos early last evening.

Clinton was on his way home, and was just nearing the corner of Ft. Lobos avenue when, without warning, he received a blow on the back of the head which was evidently intended to render him unconscious, but owing to the fact that he had on a Derby hat he was not badly hurt. After assaulting Clinton, the footpad, the lower part of whose face was covered with a black handkerchief, stepped in front of the man and demanded that he give up his money. Clinton thought quickly and knew that if the robber searched him he would take his watch and considerable money that he had on his person.

He therefore decided to work a bluff, and putting his hand in his pocket, drew out $2.50 and handed it to the footpad. The man seemed content with this and telling Clinton to "beat it," made off in the darkness.

DINAN WANTS LONG VACATION

Ex-Chief of Police Asks for 60 Days With No Salary.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—The thirty days leave of absence granted to former Chief of Police Jerry Dinan by the Police Commissioners on the occasion of his resignation, expired last night and considerable guessing was going on in police circles as to just what would be done with him when he reported for duty.

Dinan did not visit the new chief of police in person, however, but sent a request in which he asks for a sixty days' further leave of absence without pay. Chief Bigsby granted him a temporary leave until tomorrow afternoon, when the matter of the sixty days' vacation will come up before the Police Commissioners.

WANTS TO BE CORPORAL.

It is declared that Dinan is simply playing for time and making up his mind whether he wishes to resume his police work in the humble capacity of a patrolman. Some say that Dinan is merely waiting to see whether the commissioners confirm his claim to a corporalship in the department and that if he is obliged to do patrol duty he will probably resign from the department. The status of Dinan as a corporal will probably be determined by the commission at the meeting next Thursday, but it is the opinion of those who have had to do with the department in similar cases that the former chief's claim to that office and his chance of getting it are rather slim.

COURTROOM THROGGED TO HEAR SCULLY MURDER CASE

Trial of Glover's Slayer, However, Is Postponed Until October 2 by the Court.

A large crowd assembled in Judge Melvin's court this morning anticipating developments in the case of the People vs. Olive Scully, charged with the murder of Deputy County Clerk James Glover. The case occupied a position about the middle of the criminal calendar, appearing between that of William Waldemann, charged with forgery, and Ira V. Plump, charged with the murder of Jesse Wood, a colored man. Miss Scully was accompanied from the county jail by Mrs. Clark, the matron, and took a seat inside the railing with her back to the public benches. She was attractively gowned in a tailor-made suit of dark blue, wore a heavy veil which, however, she raised during the argument between her lawyers and District Attorney Brown.

James Crealey appeared as counsel for the defense, requesting that Messrs. Allen and Walsh be considered as associates with him in the case. CASE CONTINUED. Upon request of Crealey, which met with no objection from the district attorney,

WALKS AWAY WITH PEANUTS

Stranger Buys Twenty Bags From Vender and Never Comes With Pay.

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—A stranger evidently a believer of Professor Meyer E. Jaffe's theory that peanuts are a more nutritious food than beefsteak, walked away with twenty bags of peanuts from the stand of Otto Biggs at Bancroft way and Telegraph avenue yesterday afternoon. The stranger, who is described by Biggs as being smooth shaven, medium height, wearing a gray suit, black hat and blue flannel shirt, walked up to the keeper of the peanut stand and asked, in a business like manner, for twenty bags of peanuts. Biggs placed the bags in the man's arms and he walked away. "I'll be right back," said the purchaser, pausing as he stepped around the corner, obviously to procure the wherewithal to pay Biggs, which amounted to $1. Biggs, waiting on other customers, but as his late customer did not return, he reported the matter to the police.

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—Church people of all evangelical sects in this city will join hands in a series of revival meetings beginning next Sunday, which will be under the direction of Rev. E. J. Bulgin, the famous pulpit orator, who is known the length and breadth of the state. It is the intention of the church leaders to start a campaign to arouse religious enthusiasm which will sweep the town.

The meetings will be held in a large tent on the north side of Allston way, between Milvia and Grove streets. Dr. Bulgin, who is a Presbyterian, has with him Professor C. H. Gates, who will furnish the musical part of the programme of the meetings.

THOSE AIDING. The churches which have joined in the revival movement are: The First Presbyterian, Knox Presbyterian, Grace Presbyterian, the Trinity Methodist Episcopal, the Friends, the First Christian and the North Berkeley Congregational.

OBJECT TO GIVING MEN SMOKING ROOM

ALAMEDA, Sept. 23.—City Attorney Simpson this morning started work on the ordinance advertising the sale of the bonds voted at the election on Saturday and will have it completed this week so the council will act at the meeting next Monday night.

The opposition to the library bonds, which proved strong in many precincts, is the subject of much discussion. When an attempt was made to start the voting on the bonds, the opposition was so strong that it was decided to hold a meeting at the library to discuss the matter. The fact that it is to be a smoking room caused some opposition but the result was in doubt until the last precinct had been counted.

The voting of $50,000 for the purchase of a site for a school building and the erection of a structure is not exactly what the Board of Education wanted. The money was voted for the erection of a new school house while the members of the board state that the money is needed for improvements and additions to the schools now being used. It is not believed the educators will be able to secure the money except for the purpose for which it was voted.

PHONOGRAPH TO CATCH WEIRD INDIAN CHANTS

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—A unique use of the phonograph has been undertaken by Thomas D. Waterman, a graduate of the University of California and assistant in the department of anthropology in the University of California.

Equipped with a number of phonographic records, Waterman has been sent to San Diego county to witness the mourning ceremonies of the Indians of that country. "The red men chant the requiems for the departed around an eagle and the ceremony is called 'The Eagle Dance'." The last dance of this character was held over twenty years ago and the students of the State University fear that the present dance will be the last, hence they have equipped Waterman with the means of making permanent the funeral gathering of the Indians of Southern California.

LASTS ALL NIGHT. The ceremonies held by the Indians at the eagle take place at night and the dances are kept up until the eagle is gradually crushed to death in honor of the departed chiefs, which the bird is supposed to cry.

The department of anthropology of the University of California has now more than a thousand records of the language and songs phonographic of the Indians.

THROW FROM SWIFT AND

Young Man Prostrated at Hospital Suffering From Severe Concussion.

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—Carter Johnson, a young man residing at 1338 Walnut street, and a son of H. W. Johnson, a lumberman on Third street of this city, was seriously injured at the corner of Bancroft way and Telegraph avenue yesterday by falling from a swiftly moving automobile.

Johnson in company with a party of three other young men of the college town, found themselves in Oakland after the cars had stopped running. They engaged an automobile to take them home, and it was while making the turn at Bancroft way and Telegraph avenue with the auto running swiftly that the accident occurred. The door of the automobile swung open suddenly and Johnson was thrown out, landed heavily on his head. He received serious injuries, from which for a time it was feared he would not recover. He was picked up by his companions and hurried to the Roosevelt Hospital, at Dwight way and Milvia street. Dr. Frank Woolsey, after an examination, stated that he thought Johnson would recover if the concussion was of not too serious a nature.

"The victim was rendered delirious and lost all record of the accident. In addition to the severe concussion he is suffering from a badly bruised face and head. The young man is a member of the Concordia Club, a young men's organization of this city."

TO TEACH NEW SONGS AT BLEACHER RALLY

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—An interesting program has been arranged for the field of the University, which occurs Wednesday afternoon.

The special object of the rally is to teach the thousands of people the new songs and new song books which will be distributed free.

These volumes contain both the new songs and the old hymns. The new songs are made on a five color scheme and the book throughout is more complete than any ever given before.

Final announcements regarding the pajama rally and the Carnival at Idora Park will also be made at this rally.

Sam Hume, the yell leader, has engaged the Idora Park Theater for the night of the freshmen game and details will be given at the rally.

At future University of California athletic contests Sam Hume, the yell leader, will carry the official yell leader's cane, which now hangs on the side of the trophy cabinet in the library.

E. P. Miller, '08, of Oakland, the first yell leader at the University, and the one to whom the cane was first presented, will give a talk on its history and significance at the pajama rally next Friday evening.

Some ten years ago the custom of having an official cane for yell leaders was instituted. The cane was acquired and given into the custody of Prof. Howell. The cane was turned over only twice during its history, to yell leaders due to their own carelessness. All that was necessary was that they give Prof. Howell a receipt and they, ex-officio, would have become custodians of it, canes, returning it at the end of the year.

The vessel is a sister schooner of the Inman and the Folson, the two other vessels of the company, named in honor of the other members of the firm.

COAL DEALERS ENJOY FEAST

Local Organization Banquets at Idora and Listens to Rousing Speeches.

The Retail Coal Dealers of Alameda county held their annual banquet Saturday evening at Idora Park grill rooms. About one hundred and thirty-five of the coal dealers and their wives were present to partake of the hospitality of the association.

Ernest Ludwig, the caterer at Idora Park, outdid all his former efforts in the culinary line. The well appointed and handsomely decorated tables were loaded with the choicest viands of the season. A. G. Rhodes, the genial president of the association, acted as toastmaster and after a few words of welcome to the assembled guests, the entire audience joined in singing "America." Arthur Reese rendered in splendid form "My Own United States."

William T. Satterwhite, the attorney for the association, responded to the toast of the evening, "Greater Oakland." In his remarks he spoke of the increase of population and growth of Oakland's prosperity in the past year and a half, and predicted for Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, a future unsurpassed by any city on the coast. Thomas Lydiken rendered a vocal selection which was enthusiastically received. George Lydiken gave a well rendered selection which was highly appreciated by the guests.

James P. Taylor, one of the oldest coal dealers in the county, responded to the toast of "The Retailers" and gave to the members a history of the early troubles of the coal dealers in San Francisco and Oakland in securing coal enough to supply the scanty population of the early days, and brought home to his hearers the fact that today Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley have one of the most efficient and up-to-date systems of handling coal, and that even then, this system is taxed to the utmost supplying the fuel needs of the tremendous population of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley.

Walter Satterwhite, the clever monologist, kept the audience in a roar of laughter by his clever Italian and German sketches.

James B. Muir responded to the toast of "Merchants' Protective Association." In his remarks he alluded to the fact that the Coal Dealers' Association was really the creator of the Merchants' Protective Association and that the Merchants' Protective Association had enabled the Merchants' Protective Association to build up and become of valuable assistance in the credit and collection line to all of the merchants in the community. Other members of the Coal Dealers' Association were called on by the chairman and after one of the most enjoyable evening ever spent by the organization, the audience sang "Auld Lang Syne" and went home, well pleased with the efforts of the banquet committee.

AUSTRALIAN LACKS RED BLOOD, SAYS JORDAN

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—President David Starr Jordan was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Berkeley Australian Club held in Masonic Temple Saturday evening. Professor Bernard Moses of the political science department also gave an address in which he discussed some of the important features of our relations with Latin America.

President Jordan contrasted the Australians with the American nation and pointed out how widely these two branches of the Anglo-Saxon race have grown apart. He spoke of Australia as a "gray" country, while America was characterized as a "red" land, filled with warm, hot-blooded people.

"One noticeable difference between the two nations," said the speaker, "is in the proportion of young men and women who go to college. In Australia all sons and daughters of wealthy families dare to think of going to college. There is a sort of caste, which tends to keep the poor young man at the bottom. In this country, however, a youth who shows pluck enough to get his way through college, winning honors is respected by all right thinking people."

President Jordan also dwelt at some length on the race problem which now confronts the American people. He spoke of the races which closely resemble the American people such as the Latins, but who have different traditions, as being a greater source of danger than the Oriental races.

Reuben Hunt, champion tennis player, and graduate of the State University, is engaged to Miss Leslie Raphael of Alameda. The wedding will occur in the spring.

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—President David Starr Jordan was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Berkeley Australian Club held in Masonic Temple Saturday evening. Professor Bernard Moses of the political science department also gave an address in which he discussed some of the important features of our relations with Latin America.

President Jordan contrasted the Australians with the American nation and pointed out how widely these two branches of the Anglo-Saxon race have grown apart. He spoke of Australia as a "gray" country, while America was characterized as a "red" land, filled with warm, hot-blooded people.

"One noticeable difference between the two nations," said the speaker, "is in the proportion of young men and women who go to college. In Australia all sons and daughters of wealthy families dare to think of going to college. There is a sort of caste, which tends to keep the poor young man at the bottom. In this country, however, a youth who shows pluck enough to get his way through college, winning honors is respected by all right thinking people."

President Jordan also dwelt at some length on the race problem which now confronts the American people. He spoke of the races which closely resemble the American people such as the Latins, but who have different traditions, as being a greater source of danger than the Oriental races.

GOAL DEALERS ENJOY FEAST

Local Organization Banquets at Idora and Listens to Rousing Speeches.

The Retail Coal Dealers of Alameda county held their annual banquet Saturday evening at Idora Park grill rooms. About one hundred and thirty-five of the coal dealers and their wives were present to partake of the hospitality of the association.

Ernest Ludwig, the caterer at Idora Park, outdid all his former efforts in the culinary line. The well appointed and handsomely decorated tables were loaded with the choicest viands of the season. A. G. Rhodes, the genial president of the association, acted as toastmaster and after a few words of welcome to the assembled guests, the entire audience joined in singing "America." Arthur Reese rendered in splendid form "My Own United States."

William T. Satterwhite, the attorney for the association, responded to the toast of the evening, "Greater Oakland." In his remarks he spoke of the increase of population and growth of Oakland's prosperity in the past year and a half, and predicted for Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, a future unsurpassed by any city on the coast. Thomas Lydiken rendered a vocal selection which was enthusiastically received. George Lydiken gave a well rendered selection which was highly appreciated by the guests.

James P. Taylor, one of the oldest coal dealers in the county, responded to the toast of "The Retailers" and gave to the members a history of the early troubles of the coal dealers in San Francisco and Oakland in securing coal enough to supply the scanty population of the early days, and brought home to his hearers the fact that today Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley have one of the most efficient and up-to-date systems of handling coal, and that even then, this system is taxed to the utmost supplying the fuel needs of the tremendous population of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley.

Miss Clara Duhen rendered a selection entitled "A May Morning" and an enthusiastic encore, pleased the audience by rendering "Orpheus and His Lute."

George Cockerton, for many years secretary of the association, responded to the toast of "The Association" and his remarks, Mr. Cockerton pointed out the fact that before the association was organized the coal business was in a very loose and disorganized condition, but that the association had brought order to chaos and that the members of the organization and the public also, were greatly benefited by its work.

Miss Stella Reese, rendered a piano solo, entitled "The Storm." Miss Reese is an artist of a high order and the audience was highly delighted with her rendition of many difficult selections. Walter Satterwhite, the clever monologist, kept the audience in a roar of laughter by his clever Italian and German sketches.

James B. Muir responded to the toast of "Merchants' Protective Association." In his remarks he alluded to the fact that the Coal Dealers' Association was really the creator of the Merchants' Protective Association and that the Merchants' Protective Association had enabled the Merchants' Protective Association to build up and become of valuable assistance in the credit and collection line to all of the merchants in the community. Other members of the Coal Dealers' Association were called on by the chairman and after one of the most enjoyable evening ever spent by the organization, the audience sang "Auld Lang Syne" and went home, well pleased with the efforts of the banquet committee.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—A large crowd was present in the Greek Theater yesterday to hear a "Musical Hour" of music which was given by Miss Lillian Birmingham, the contralto, with Fred Maurer as accompanist. The concert was one of the most enjoyable that has been heard in the theater. Miss Birmingham's full, rich voice was heard to great advantage in the well chosen numbers which she presented.

DROP STUDENT FROM CLASS

Sophomore, Caught Reading College Paper During Recitation, Dismissed by Prof. Miller.

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—Once again has the "Great Ax" fallen on the head of an unsuspecting college youth who was caught reading his college daily during classroom lectures. Professor Adolph C. Miller, Flood professor of economics, was the man who took exception to this practice and dismissed D. Y. Lamon, a sophomore, for offending in that regard. The dismissal came as a surprise to the young man, as he was not aware of the unwritten law among the professors on that subject.

"The gentleman reading that Daily Californian will excuse himself from further attendance at the lecture in this course," announced the professor, looking steadily at the young man. Professor Miller continued his lecture, while the students, rather amazed at the quickness of it all, watched Lamon gather up his books and wend his way out of the classroom.

A short time ago women students in the English department of the University were surprised when a professor told them to leave the Daily Californian outside the classroom before the students got a paper early in the morning and glance over it while waiting for their class to convene. This practice is apparently doomed.

WILL RECRUIT ARMY ENGINEER COMPANIES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—All the engineer companies in the army are to be recruited up to the maximum limit of the law. This action was decided on with a view to complying with a request made by Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the Philippine division, that two additional companies of engineer troops be designated at that station for service.

YELL LEADERS CHOSEN. BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—Max Stone, '09, and Victor Starnes, '09, were chosen as assistant yell leaders at the University. Stone was at one time yell leader at Berkeley high school and is now a member of the "Blue and Gold." Starnes won his "C" in the high jump last year.

The rotters for the Stanford-California football game have decided to occupy the center of the field, paying $2 each a seat.

BOY WHOSE OF SAILOR'S LIFE

14-Year-Old Charles Ayres Returns After Long Sea Adventure.

BERKELEY, Sept. 23.—Wearied with globe trotting, little fourteen-year-old Charles Ayres of 1643 Edith street, returned to his home in this city last evening after an absence of six weeks. Filled with an unutterable longing for the sea which sooner or later comes to every lad, the youth left home on August 12 and according to his story shipped on a coasting steamer bound for Seattle.

For over a month he has been playing the sailor lad, visiting strange cities and having a royal good time in general. Filled by the rosy pictures of a sunbathing life drawn by the sailors Charles shipped on the coasting steamer "President," which left San Francisco August 12 bound for northern ports. After leaving Seattle, the vessel touched at Vancouver and various other ports in British Columbia, en route to Alaska.

The San Francisco Political Situation.

To men with sound minds the political situation in San Francisco presents no call for hysterics, heroics or hyperdermics. All that is necessary to the restoration of peace and public confidence and the establishment of honest, capable government is to elect as Mayor a square, capable, independent citizen who will strive to serve the whole people effectively and honestly and who will not be the creature of any clique, class, corporation or boss. Associate with him an able, upright lawyer who will sternly enforce the law against all kinds of crime and prosecute vigorously all criminals.

It is urged that because Rudolph Spreckels has financed and directed the graft prosecutions he should be permitted to name the Mayor. If that premise be accepted, then the thing to do is to make Mr. Spreckels Mayor. Why place his deputies in charge of every branch of the municipal government and not clothe the real power with the legal authority and responsibility? If the city is to have a Spreckels government, Mr. Spreckels should be at the head of it, controlling affairs as the charter provides and giving orders under the color and authority of law. An unofficial dictatorship is undesirable as irresponsible rule is lawless and un-American.

It is claimed that Mr. Langdon should be made his own successor because the graft crusade began during his term of office. The fact that Mr. Langdon has had very little to do with the graft prosecutions is studiously ignored. The fact that he has handed over the powers of his office to private parties, whose servile instrument he has become, is assuredly not a recommendation. That he is without character and fixed convictions, and destitute of legal ability is notorious. That he has granted immunity, or rather allowed immunity to be granted in his name, to the boodlers he ostensibly set out to prosecute is as undisputable as it is scandalous. It is also self-evident that his office has been handed over to privately retained attorneys who direct all criminal proceedings and use the powers so obtained in an irregular manner for political purposes.

It is acknowledged that Langdon is a mere figurehead as District Attorney; that he is a political weathercock perpetually changing his political affiliations to get office; that he was nominated by Abe Ruef, and ardently advocated the election of Schmitz and the boodling Supervisors he is now protecting from punishment for their crimes; that he has sanctioned a bargain with thieves which holds up immunity to criminals as a direct inducement to commit perjury. Letting the confessedly guilty go on condition that they assist in convicting accused persons whose guilt has yet to be established has the inevitable effect of offering a reward for perjury. Indictments procured by the same questionable means are subject to the same corrupting influence.

Some foolish person has compared William H. Langdon to Joseph Folk, the great prosecutor who made himself Governor of Missouri by exposing and punishing crime. The comparison is an insult to one of the great men of the nation. Governor Folk is a man of firm political convictions, exalted character and great legal attainments. He began and conducted the war against boodling in St. Louis on his own motion. He did not grant immunity to the scoundrels, but prosecuted and sent them to prison. His crusade against political crime was not financed or directed by outside parties. He did not have a private detective bureau, paid and controlled by outsiders to collect evidence, intimidate jurors and witnesses and bargain with rascals as to the terms on which they would testify against others. No disgraceful immunity contracts can be charged to him. He remained his own man at all times, and never intrigued with boodlers and blackmailers to secure political control of the city. He did his work successfully without compounding felonies by employing the regular authorized agencies of the law, and not by extra judicial process or calling to his aid a hold-over grand jury. He ground no private axes, avenged no private grievances, and fed no personal revenges. No financial exploitation was mingled with his vindication of justice. He did not try his cases in the newspapers in advance; he resorted to no irregular expedients, and did not allow private individuals to furnish him assistants to do the prosecuting and manage the affairs of his office.

In fact, there is no point of resemblance between Joseph Folk and William H. Langdon. Every word said in praise of Folk is a reproach to Langdon. Moreover, Langdon is always the creature of somebody. First he obeyed McNab, next Ruef, then Hearst and lastly Spreckels. His re-election will simply perpetuate Spreckels' control of the District Attorney's office and the methods which have characterized it ever since the graft crusade became a close political and financial corporation.

It appears from a recent New York dispatch that the University of Chicago, which figures at the head of the list of John D. Rockefeller's philanthropies, is the possessor of five thousand shares of Standard Oil stock which has within ten years declined in value from $940 to $440 per share. Of course this depreciated stock has, in the meantime, earned enormous dividends. But the gift of Standard Oil stock by Rockefeller was after all very much in the nature of a gold brick, whose purpose was partly to gratify a personal vanity, but chiefly to weaken an opposition which was then only vaguely foreshadowed by muzzling one of the great educational institutions of the country and its graduates, just as Carnegie's offer to give the national government $11,000,000 in United Steel corporation bonds for the endowment of a national university was designed to prevent a Federal investigation of the great trusts. But Roosevelt was keen to recognize the gold brick and declined the bonds while expressing his willingness to accept the gift, if tendered in gold coin. It will be remembered that the President's suggestion was not accepted, and that the Carnegie university was established as a private trust. The wisdom of the President's course has since been demonstrated, for the government has been able to proceed against the trusts without being hampered by the possession of any of their securities.

One of the ridiculous things advocated for the relief of the public in San Francisco from the extortion of the produce ring is the establishment by the State of a free market on the water front at North Point, which is several miles from the most densely settled sections of the city. Free markets to be of any service to the public must be located at some central point where they can be easily reached by the people. A free market on any part of San Francisco's water front would, at the present time, and under present conditions, be a waste of the State's money, for the reason, if none other, existed, that it will be virtually inaccessible to both producer and consumer, save such producers as deliver their garden truck by water. To the vegetable producers of San Mateo county, and to the people at the Mission and the Western and Richmond additions and Ashbury Heights district, a water front free market would be of no value whatever.

Big Electric Railway Projects.

Superintendent W. S. Palmer and Assistant Chief Engineer J. H. Wallace of the Southern Pacific Company appeared in person before the Fifty Thousand Club of Alameda on Saturday night to explain the nature and extent of the improvements the corporation is preparing to make to its local steam lines and for which it is now asking new franchises in Oakland and in Alameda in order to operate them with electricity as the motive power. THE TRIBUNE has noted, from time to time, the various stages of development through which the project of changing the motive power of the company's suburban system on this side of the bay has passed.

But the Fifty Thousand Club learned on Saturday night that the electrification of the Southern Pacific Company's tracks on this side of the bay would be extended from Melrose to Hayward and to San Jose soon after the change in the motive power of the Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Fruitvale and Melrose lines was an accomplished fact. This explained in a measure the purpose of erecting at Fruitvale an electric generating plant of 10,000 horse-power, the contract for the erection of which was awarded during last week to a Chicago firm. In all probability the Southern Pacific's plans include the creation ultimately of an electrical power horse-shoe system from this city to San Francisco via San Jose and Redwood City.

From the representations made by the two railroad officials to the Alameda Club, the new roads will be equipped with cars nearly if not quite equal in passenger carrying to the largest passenger cars used on the present steam roads, and that the facilities for trans-bay travel will be greatly improved and enlarged for the mutual benefit of the communities concerned. The Webster street line in this city is to be the first to be put in operation. The total cost of the changes to be made by the company in the local and suburban service will approximate $2,000,000.

In this connection we have also a great electric generating plant being established at the foot of Fifth avenue in this city by a corporation which is generally understood to be an auxiliary organization to the Western Pacific. This plant, as was recently described, will have a capacity of 50,000 horse-power, that is, five times the capacity of the Fruitvale plant of the Southern Pacific Company. It is, moreover, to be directly joined through the erection of a transmission line, with a fifty thousand horse-power plant located at the foot of the Big Bend of the Feather river. The purpose of these joint 100,000 power plants, which involve the investment of over $5,000,000, has only been vaguely given out; but from all appearances, there is no escape from the conviction that in the very near future electric power is going to cut a big figure in the competition between the rival railroads in not only the San Francisco bay region but throughout a large section of central and northern California, and that the result will be concentrated in Oakland and its environs.

The alleged imperishability of redwood receives a rude shock through the experience of the Harriman railroads in the southwest, the redwood ties on which have all dry rotted and are to be taken up and new ties of pine to be substituted. The pine ties are soaked in a zinc solution which protects the wood from the ravages of insects and from dry rot. The superior lasting qualities of redwood is largely a fiction, save where constantly immersed in water and excluded from exposure to the air. Under ordinary conditions, redwood is as perishable as any other kind of timber.

Alameda distinguished itself at the late bond election by carrying every one of the seven propositions for public improvements. The children's playgrounds was apparently the only measure in any doubt, and that carried with a safe margin. Alameda has given another proof of its intent to keep in step in the march of progress which has become so conspicuous of late on this side of the bay. By and by it will be ready to break down its barriers of exclusiveness and join enthusiastically in the movement for consolidation.

BETTER KEEP OUT OF POLITICS.

Clarence S. Merrill has been given a recess appointment by President Roosevelt to the position of postmaster at Berkeley. This is in direct opposition to the recommendations of Congressman Knowland. The latter recommended Charles B. Thomas for the position and had the support of Senators Flint and Perkins and Governor Gillett, but President Benjamin D. Wheeler took up the cudgel for Merrill and a lively fight was the result. It seems, however, that the University man has more influence with the President of the United States than the representatives of California, but Congressman Knowland will oppose the confirmation of Merrill's appointment by the Senate. To the average person it would appear that President Wheeler would employ his time to better advantage if he would attend more strictly to his duties at the University and keep out of politics. His interest in the post-office appointment is neither dignified nor calculated to increase confidence in the University and he has been severely criticized.—Contra Costa Standard.

WIDOW IN JAIL WINS THE KEEPER'S HEART; WEDS WHEN PAROLED

BRIDE RICH AND YOUNG

GROOM BELIEVED IN HER INNOCENCE

SHE IS NOTED AS CHARITABLE

WHITE HILL, N. J., Sept. 23.—Paroled from the New Jersey state prison at Trenton several months before the expiration of her sentence of one year for violation of the excise laws of New Jersey, Mrs. Susan Doblinski, a wealthy widow of Lambertville, was married here this afternoon to Frank Miller Suydam, deputy keeper of the Trenton Penitentiary.

The ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. William H. Carter, pastor of the White Hill Methodist Episcopal Church, who is a personal friend of the bridegroom and a former senator from New Jersey.

Previous to her first marriage, Mrs. Doblinski was the adopted daughter of a widely known Lambertville family. She is now about 38 years old.

After the death of Doblinski, about seven years ago, his widow continued managing the Belmont house in Lambertville, and she accumulated property and money which residents of that town say is worth many thousands.

Her handsomest house is now occupied by the Lambertville Lodge of Elks.

BEFRIENDED BY WARDEN.

Always noted for her charity and benevolence, residents of Lambertville were startled late last year by her arrest on charges of selling liquor on Sunday. She was sentenced to serve one year in the state prison, but from the first day of her incarceration the warden regarded her as a guest rather than a prisoner.

Her conduct was admirable, and several weeks after her imprisonment she obtained a suite of rooms separate from other inmates.

Mrs. Doblinski gave the prison a well-equipped library and a jeweled Bible which cost $150, and when the court of pardons learned that she was convicted on very slim evidence they decided to parole her.

Suydam, who is mentioned for the Republican nomination for Mayor of Bordentown, where he lives, has been a keeper in the prison for twenty-five years, and he knew Mrs. Doblinski many years. His wife died seven years ago, leaving two children, one of whom is Mrs. Martin Fisher, whose husband is manager of the Victoria Hotel, in Trenton.

BELIEVES HER INNOCENT.

Suydam always believed that Mrs. Doblinski was innocent of the charge, and when she was paroled recently he asked her to marry him.

Arrangements were made for a quiet wedding, but when the bride party left Bordentown at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for White Hill scores of persons gathered, throwing rice and confetti.

Mrs. Fisher was matron of honor and the best man was her husband. Those who accompanied the pair were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Docherty, of Lambertville; Frank H. Sprague, of Bordentown, and a few other guests.

Returning to Bordentown, Mr. and Mrs. Suydam found such a crowd around the house that they had difficulty in dodging more rice, old shoes and other good luck tokens which usually go with a happy wedding.

It seemed as if every person in the town turned out to welcome them, and Suydam was kept busy for an hour shaking hands and acknowledging congratulations. Neighbors played pianos, graphophones and other musical instruments in their honor.

The new members for whose welcome the club has prepared are: Mrs. Henry Maxwell, Mrs. Alexander Hutchinson, Miss Leslie Manuel, Mrs. M. K. Miller, Mrs. N. M. Bunker, Miss Imogene Hawley, Mrs. Henry Wilson, Miss B. Smith, Mrs. Pierre Olney, Mrs. Alfred Kendall, Mrs. John McEwing, Mrs. L. P. Walrath, Mrs. Charles Sherman Girvan, Miss Rose Debbins, Mrs. A. H. Higgins, Mrs. H. S. Kergan, Mrs. Raymond A. Levinsaler, Mrs. Percival K. Walker, Mrs. Charles L. Morey, Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Miss Georgia Barker.

Mrs. W. G. Palmantier will be presiding hostess. She will be assisted by Mrs. J. B. Hume, Miss Eva Powell, Mrs. Chas. J. Woodbury, Mrs. Frank M. Hurd, Mrs. Harry P. Carlton, Mrs. E. C. Von Helms, Mrs. Willard F. Williamson, Miss Jennie Hill, Mrs. Melvin Chapman, Mrs. Thos. Crellin, Mrs. George H. Wheaton, Mrs. Charles Radolph, Mrs. Hayward G. Thomas, Mrs. Edward Taylor, Mrs. Gordon Stalp, Mrs. Edgar Stone, Mrs. Alfred T. Eastland, Mrs. G. W. Klopp.

A FAMILY PARTY.

Mrs. Joseph W. Warner of Caledonia avenue entertained a pleasant family party on Saturday evening, complimentary to Miss Elva Hoyt, who is to be married on Tuesday to Guy Warner, of Oregon, a brother of Joseph Warner of this city.

GIRLS AS BAIT TO DRAW LADIES TO FIRE COMPANY

Town Gets Its Belles to Entice Younger Crowd Into Organization by Inaugurating Dances.

JENKINTOWN, Pa., Sept. 23.—Jenkin town belles are being used as bait to draw the young men of the borough into the Independent Fire Company No. 2. There are now 100 members in the organization—all well-known citizens of Jenkintown—but at least twenty more young men are wanted.

With that end in view, the services of the pretty girls have been solicited, and a series of dances and receptions has been planned. The first one took place in the fire house in Greenwood avenue last night, and, judging from the manner in which invitations were snapped up, it will not be necessary to give many more.

'Indian' Maids Pitch Tepees in City Street

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—"Heap big Indian" reigned supreme last night at the first annual block party and street carnival held under the auspices of Mingo Council, No. 124, Degree of Pochontes. This is the first event of this kind held by this auxiliary to the Improved Order of Red Men.

The intersection of Euclid avenue, Berks street, Sedgely avenue and Thirtieth street resembled a regular Wild West reservation, with tents and tepees pitched in the streets. The members of Mingo Council were garbed in the uniform of their order and gave personal attention to the selling of their wares from the booths.

In addition to the features of a block party, two real Indians were present and proved big drawing cards. White Cloud, a full-blooded Indian, who came to Philadelphia some years ago, and who is now engaged in business on Fairmont avenue, was attired in the dress of his tribe. Naomi, his wife, read fortunes in a near-by tent by means of palmistry.

marriage certificate, Bible and other articles usually carried by a clergyman. They then realized their mistake. They found that they were in the room of the minister and his wife. But it was too late to right matters and things were permitted to remain as they were. Pastor and wife took it good-naturedly.

ROMEO OF 90 AND SWEETHEART OF 69

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 23.—Abner Jones, nearing the century mark, and Mrs. Maria Kinder, 69 years old, both of Armstrong County, called at the office of Justice of the Peace Husehilton in Chicago yesterday.

"We want you to marry us," said the nonagenarian.

"Have you a license?"

"Why, no; we're old enough to get married without one of them licenses, ain't we, Maria?" as he looked coyly at the bride-to-be.

The justice explained that he could not marry them without a license, no matter how old they were, and advised them to either go to Youngstown or back to Armstrong.

They went back home, declaring that the justice was wrong about it.

"Old folks like us don't need no license," they said in unison as they left the justice's office.

James, who is very well to do, today said he would consult an attorney concerning Husehilton's "strange demand."

Thought They Were Old Enough to Marry Without a License

QUAYSVILLE (Pa.), Sept. 23.—Dabney Dates and his wife Laura have been compelled to separate, and this town, six miles from Washington, is again peaceful. The pair disagreed. Each claimed to own a one-half interest in the furniture of the home, and each threw the other's half into the street. Justice of Peace Mastart arrested the couple, brought them before himself and tried them.

He compelled man and wife to sign a paper of separation and an agreement that they would not disturb the town again with their unseemly quarreling.

No sooner had the names been blotted than the justice said:

"I'll give you just one-half hour to leave town, and if you ever come back again I'll lock you both up."

They went.

The Hush Song By Wildie Thayer.

Sweet Love I spurned,
My fierce heart burned
With anger's cruel rush;
Then my conscience stirred,
And my spirit heard
The powerful song of "Hush!"
Hush, hush, hush!
Revenge and anger crush!
Hush!

To the mountain's shade
My fiercest I made
Where the shrill winds fiercely rush;
And from each tree
There came to me
The powerful song of "Hush!"
Hush, hush, hush!
Revenge and anger crush!
Hush!

To the mighty sea
I made my plea,
Where the wild waves madly rush;
Each separate wave
In answer gave
The murmuring song of "Hush!"
Hush, hush, hush!
Revenge and anger crush!
Hush!

Concerning Women

It will soon come to pass that there will be as many Young Women's Christian association buildings in the country as there are churches. The movement is just getting ready to build one. Kansas City has completed one and St. Louis bought one ready made.

Mrs. Clarence Mackay, who is the wife of the railroad magnate, takes much interest in public affairs and civic improvement. Last year she was elected a member of the school board in her home town of London, N. Y.

A number of women were present at the international sociological congress in Boston and followed the proceedings with interest. Among them were Mrs. E. B. Hurler of London and Mrs. Hurler of London, who is the wife of the British ambassador in Washington.

Joke Intended for Bridal Couple Hits the Preacher

READING, Sept. 23.—The Rev. and Mrs. L. H. Rhoads of Philadelphia were the victims of a joke intended for a newly married couple. Mr. Rhoads, who is a Methodist clergyman, came here to officiate at the wedding of Edward R. Dickinson and Miss Bertha Baird Kepner.

Many friends of the pair gathered at the reception. In the evening they planned a coup d'etat at the new Naturally thinking that the newlyweds would occupy the best room in the house, they went there and found two suit cases, which were opened. Outlining the clothing, they proceeded to tie the garments into many knots. Tacks were placed in the bed, the room was decorated and other pranks were played.

When the jokers opened the second suit case they found it contained a

Cupid Plays Big Part In an Amateur Opera

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—With a courtship dating from an amateur theatrical last winter, announcement is now made of the coming marriage of Miss Catherine Culberson Ridgely, daughter of the comptroller of the currency, and Phelps Brown, of Indianapolis. The wedding will take place October 24.

Last winter Miss Ridgely appeared in the comic opera, "We Are in Society," written by Mr. Brown, and produced by members of the smart society for charity's sake. During the rehearsals the romance developed.

Miss Ridgely is a granddaughter of Senator Culberson.

Mr. Brown's sister, Miss Gertrude Brown, will be married November 2 to George Huntress, of Boston. Their engagement was announced two years ago.

TRIBUNE'S BARGAIN WEEK OFFER EXCITING CONTEST CANDIDATES

As Privilege Extends for Only Six Days, Much Scurrying for Votes Is Under Way.

The offer of double the usual number of votes during "Bargain Week" is causing much excitement among candidates and their friends in THE TRIBUNE's prize contest. As this offer is only for six days, and as it is announced positively that at no other time during the contest will it be better off be made, it is causing much scurrying for votes and subscriptions.

Candidates and friends should read the full announcement of this special offer on another page.

RESERVE VOTES.

The wise contestants will now lay in their reserve supply of votes to be hurried at their opponents on the closing night of the contest. While it is well to be at the top of the published list each day, it is much better to have many votes that you can use at the last moment.

PRIZES ARE VALUABLE.

In such a contest as THE TRIBUNE is now conducting, a few days is not a very long time to get a sufficient number of votes to assure any candidate victory. That all candidates are working so strenuously and with such determinaunable to see their friends and only a few votes separate those who are last from those who are first.

WALTER C. FROST.

Berkeley has a most energetic and ambitious candidate in Walter C. Frost, who is a clerk at the Berkeley postoffice. Frost is making a strong fight for the $1,500 Rambler touring car, and is receiving many promises of subscriptions and votes. On account of his efficient work in the postoffice the business men of Berkeley will give him much support in his campaign.

GEORGE E. MANES.

The $1,100 building lot to be given to the most popular union man is proving to be a big incentive to some ambitious persons.

George E. Manes has been entered in this contest by his friends, and he is joining them with the determination to win the prize. Manes is a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and also a member of the International Union of Steam Engineers. His record is union circles is such as to guarantee him many votes from union men. His employers of the Century tion is largely due to the fact that the prizes given to the winner are of real worth, prizes that if the contestants desired they could easily turn into money enough that would more than repay them for the time and efforts spent in gaining the prize. Then there is the honor of being chosen first by the public that should be an extra incentive to win.

This contest is conducted with perfect fairness to all concerned. The votes are counted twice before the result is published and standings are classified the next day before being filed. We would be pleased to have any of the contestants or their friends call when we count the votes that they may see for themselves that there is no partiality shown.

If you have not already interested yourself in the success of one of the candidates don't delay but do so now.

SUBSCRIBE NOW.

If you only knew how much the contestants would appreciate your help you would certainly subscribe in someone's favor. Your vote will be needed, and if the present standing of the candidates are examined you will notice a subscription will be a great help toward advancing someone toward the front and the prize. This is especially true in some districts where up to now the contestants have been thinking it over or else

SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Sturtevant of Sixteenth street celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday evening at their home, gathering a number of relatives and close friends about them at an elaborate wedding feast.

Many beautiful gifts were received by the host and his wife, both of whom are widely known and highly esteemed. Among those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. R. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. P. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. H. Howlands, Mr. and Mrs. S. Scott, Mrs. Lulu Lee, Mrs. McNabb, Mrs. Trowers, Mrs. L. Martin, Messrs. R. Marshall, J. Cassell, W. Neal, W. Lee, J. C. ### BIRTHDAY RECEPTION.

A number of guests assembled at the home of C. Plathman on Adeline street last Monday to present congratulations on his sixty-seventh birthday. The rooms were prettily decorated with carnations and green vines, and a group of musicians in attendance played during the evening. Dainty refreshments were served, and the host was made the subject of happy toasts and warm congratulations. Among those who were present were Mrs. Anne Nangles, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hollis, Mrs. J. Schoner and Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer of San Francisco, Mr. J. H. Scheper and Miss Fanny Scheper of San Mateo; Mr. and Mrs. N. Muller, Miss Lena Muller, Mr. and Mrs. D. Muller, Mrs. Sturken of Alameda; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Plathman and children and Mrs. William C. Plathman.

FABIOLA AT THE CARNIVAL.

Today saw a most enthusiastic group of workers at the blue and white booth put up for the Fabiola ladies, and all day the crowd around the Fabiola concession was gratifyingly large. Miss Helen Dorris makes a capital leader, and with her she had a most fascinating corps of assistants. Among them were Miss Sevilla Hayden, Miss Kitty Kutz, Mrs. Traylor, Bell, Mrs. John Dillert, Miss Louise Hall, Miss Gertrude Russell, Miss Edna Prather, Miss Carolyn Palmanteer and Miss Clara Franck.

For tomorrow Mrs. N. P. Cole will assume the responsibility of the fortunes of Fabiola. Among her assistants will be Miss Edith Dean, Miss Cora Herrick and Miss Elizabeth Herrick.

The emergency hospital under the special supervision of Mrs. Isaac Requa is a provision that meets with wide commendation. This afternoon Dr. Beckwith and Dr. Bell were in attendance, this evening Dr. Buteau and Dr. Shields will be present. For tomorrow afternoon Dr. Lacey and Dr. Sutherland will serve, and for tomorrow night Dr. Lillencrantz and Dr. Mackay. The same system will continue throughout the days of the carnival.

OAKLAND CLUB BOOTH.

At the Oakland Club concessions an earnest group of club members worked indefatigably, though merrily, to give the carnival booths a suitable introduction to the public. All of the directors of the club were present, as well as many outside helpers.

Mrs. L. P. Crane is to have charge for tomorrow. Her staff of assistants is as follows: Mrs. F. R. Chadwick, Miss Lucy Kendall, Mrs. W. S. Peters, Mrs. A. Lacey, Mrs. Emily G. Woolley, Mrs. F. A. Merguerit, Mrs. S. F. Mikel, Mrs. B. N. Shovercraft, Mrs. Charles F. Booth, Mrs. E. A. Scott, Miss Mary E. Moran, Mrs. R. J. Burroughs, Miss Marietta Milton, Mrs. Frances Gray, Miss Katharine Gray and Miss Juanita Olsham.

MUSICAL CULTURE CLASSES.

Miss Laura Anna Zettis of Columbia University, New York, and Miss Emabelle Hudson Zucker, graduate of Stanford, dramatic reader and vocalist, are engaging in a new system of teaching children appreciation of music, and are organizing classes in the study of musical art.

The purpose of the teachers is to give the young student an intelligent understanding of musical forms, gradually leading up to the deeper things in the great masterpieces of the music world.

The teachers also plan to instill into their pupils the preception of rhythm, not only rhythm in music, but rhythm as a factor in physical grace, leading up to correct and pleasing carriage of the body.

The classes are to be conducted in Rhell hall, an early hour being set for the younger pupils, and a later part of the morning being given to the older children.

Classes for mature students are also included in the plan. The work will cover such music as Parsifal, Lohengrin and the Flying Dutchman, the aim being to explain its difficulties so that a greater enjoyment of the music may be secured.

Voice culture will also be given attention in the courses, the teachers devoting as much care to the singing as to the speaking voice. The season will open September 28 and will continue until May.

Among the patrons and patronesses are Terry Genus, president of California Conservatory of Music, San Francisco; Professor Edward Booth, University of California; Professor Charles H. Farnsworth, Columbia University; Professor Cornelius Rubner, Columbia University; Professor J. G. Lennon, University of Michigan; Professor Wolfe, University of California; Dr. Suralo, Columbia and Stanford Universities; Mrs. John C. Brittain, Mrs. Edward Booth, Mrs. L. F. "The Something for Nothing Piano"

There are, unfortunately, piano dealers whose sole method and whose highest aim seems to be deception, misstatement and false pretense; whose business is founded on the theory of P. T. Barnum's statement that "there is a sucker born every minute;" who would endeavor to make the public believe that they sell, for instance, a "$500 piano for $350," or a "$400 piano for $275"—$125 or $150 worth of piano for nothing, as it were.

Did it ever occur to you that the house which sells a "$500 piano for $350" is more probably selling a $300 piano for $350; that you cannot get something for nothing; that piano dealers are not philanthropists; that in no line of business will a merchant make you a gratuitous gift of $100 or $150; that in common reason and common sense such a thing is manifestly impossible?

There is no "something-for-nothing" policy in The Wiley B. Allen Co.'s business. Instead there is a frank, straightforward method of piano selling that makes every buyer know that his money has purchased the best piano possible at the price. There is but one price to all people, and that price the lowest which can consistently be made. There is fairness in our method, liberality in our dealings, and there is quality, service, ability, musical character and the highest type of perfection possible at the price in every piano offered on the floors of any of our stores.

There is a piano here for you; the piano you want at the price you want to pay; a piano of guaranteed character and of notable manufacture and a piano which you may purchase on a dignified, decent, honest man-to-man basis and on easiest possible payments. It's for you to decide. Circus methods, or straightforward, honest business—Which?

IS SHOT BUT CHASES THUGS

Plucky Pastor Twice Wounded
Before He Stops Pursuit of Footpads.

GREELEY, Colo., Sept. 22.—While walking home from church last night, the Rev. Oscar W. Gustafson of the Swedish Lutheran church, was confronted by two men who commanded him to hold up his hands. Upon his refusal to do so one of them shot the minister, the bullet striking a rib. The footpads then ran down the street with the minister in pursuit. When almost within reaching distance of them, one of the men turned and fired a second time, the bullet entering the left side of the pastor's neck and lodging in the muscles in the back of the neck. It is thought that he will recover. Posses are scouring the country in search of the footpads.

Photograph prints of five dollar bills, that if genuine would have had a value of $5000, were fished out of East river. Subsequently the police found that similar counterfeiters were being sold on the streets at five and ten cents each by boys.

It is now supposed that frightened counterfeiters hastily unloaded their wares into the river and that these came ashore and were gathered up in undetermined quantities by enterprising persons.

ALARM SENT OUT.
The possibility of the fraud caused an alarm to be sent out and yesterday street car conductors, restaurant cashiers and small merchants who do not close on Sunday were on their guard.

Five dollar bills are not usually accepted on street cars but when Edward Thompson wished to pay his fare with one the conductor took the bill and grasped Thompson who was backed up. William Alimayer was another whose effort to pay car fare with what looked like a $5 note landed him in jail.

August Ciclio sought to exchange such a bill for groceries and was hustled to the station house.

Not all the street car conductors were so fortunate. Twelve conductors who accommodated passengers by changing spurious $5 notes were obliged to make good the difference to the company.

The police are unable to make any estimate of the amount of the spurious issue.

NO VACATION FOR 50 YEARS

Veteran Railway President Refused to Allow Trains to Run Sundays.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Samuel Sloan, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Delaware Lackawanna and Western railroad and ex-president of the road who has just died at his summer home at Garrison-on-the-Hudson, spent fifty of his eighty-nine years of life in active railroad work and only ceased to be engaged in it a short time before his death. In his long career he joined forces one time or other with many men whose names were conspicuous in the financial history of New York. At one time or another he was directly associated with Jay Gould, Russell Sage, Commodore Vanderbilt and others and cultivated them all and was still at work long after a second, and in the case of the Vanderbilts even a third generation had succeeded the men with whom he had been associated.

INTERESTS WERE LARGE.
Sloan's interests were many and large but he will always be best remembered for his presidency of the Lackawanna. It was a relatively unimportant road when he became its head but he built it up until its stock sold higher than that of any other railroad in the country. He was a man of marked characteristics. Not the least of these was his sturdy Presbyterianism. It was he who made the Lackawanna conspicuous during his administration because of its having no Sunday trains.

"I would not work myself on Sunday," was his explanation, "and I do not see why the men under me should be made to work on Sunday."

TOOK NO VACATIONS.

Vacations were unknown to the head of the Lackawanna road. It was not that he was opposed to them, but he said: "I was too busy when I first went to work keeping my job to have any time for vacations, and later I was too busy with my work to take any."

He preached what he did not practice in this respect however for he told young men that vacations were a modern improvement of which they ought to make full use.

Sloan believed firmly, also that good work had its reward. "Any young man of fair ability," he said a few years ago

CONSCIENCE SENDS TO JAIL

Soldier Who Deserted Five Years Ago Asked to be Sent to Prison.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Smarting under a stricken conscience, Fred Feager, 34 years old, a deserter from the United States army, surrendered himself to the police yesterday with the request that he be locked in a cell and the authorities at Fort Sheridan notified. Five years have passed since Feager, who at the time still had eleven months to serve, deserted from Fort Logan, and since that time he has marked and now has three children, the oldest not quite four years of age. Feager admits that in case the government officials decide that he must serve out his time in the guard house his wife and children will suffer, as they are in poor circumstances but says he can no longer bear the stigma of being a deserter, a fact which had become known to his wife and several of his neighbors.

IN BOXER UPRISING.
Feager told the police that he had enlisted in 1900 and was sent with his regiment to China at the time of the Boxer troubles. When the regiment arrived in Japan, he says, it was ordered to Manila. While there he became ill and later was sent back to the United States where he was assigned to Company M of the Fifth Infantry then stationed at Fort Logan.

He claims he was unable to make friends with some of the officers and deserted coming to Chicago, where he obtained employment at his trade of brush-maker. Later he married and finally confided his secret to his wife.

"who is honest and industrious, can make not only a living, but a fortune in New York in spite of the great competition there."

Sloan was loyal to Ireland, his native land all of his long life and he was delighted when four years ago he was elected a member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

In 1897 the employees of the Lackawanna road presented him with a solid gold tea set which is said to have cost $100.00.

Mrs. Mary Davitt, widow of Michael Davitt, the Irish patriot and reformer, has decided to have the life of her husband written and to this end appeals through THE TRIBUNE for any letters or fragments of letters which her friends or those of her husband may have. Her letter to this paper follows:

CLAREMONT, Ballykeeler Road, Glengarry, Co. Dublin, Sept. 1907.

"To the Editor THE TRIBUNE, Oakland—Dear Sir, I have come to the conclusion after consultation with several of Mr. Davitt's intimate friends that the time has arrived when it would be a good idea to have a life of my late husband published. For that purpose I am at present engaged in the work of collating the many documents he left in his will to me and which I necessarily must be the guide to the author who will be entrusted by me with the work, which will be in harmony with the spirit of my husband's will. I may further state that it is impossible for any one to define or explain the part taken by Mr. Davitt in the many movements in which he was engaged during his excellent career and that no one has yet been afforded that privilege with a view to writing a life. In order to assist in the biography being a complete one I confidently solicit from my husband's friends a loan of any letters or documents which they may at any time have received from him. I will undertake that all such documents entrusted to me for this purpose will be copied and returned without delay and in making use of same let me add that the terms of Mr. Davitt's will will be rigidly adhered to. Yours truly, MARY DAVITT."

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

When the blood becomes infected with unhealthy humors the effect is shown on the skin in the form of pimples, rashes, eruptions, or some other type of skin disease. These humors circulating in the blood, come in contact with the delicate tissues and fibres of the skin and produce irritation and inflammation, and often excessive itching and burning. Trying to cure skin troubles with external applications is treating the effect instead of the cause. Such treatment perhaps allays some of the itching and discomfort, but does not reach the blood where the real source of troubles lies. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only cure for humors in the blood. S. S. S., a gentle acting, safe blood purifier, is the proper treatment. It goes down into the circulation and neutralizes the humors and removes them from the blood. S. S. S. supplies the blood with the fresh, healthy properties necessary to sustain the skin and keep it free from disease. S. S. S. cures Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, rashes, and all other skin affections and diseases, because it purifies the blood and removes the humors which are responsible for the trouble. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

MISSING CLERK WRITES WIFE

Woman Receives Two Letters,
Though Mystery Deepens in Peculiar Case.

Employing aid in the search for her husband, Matthew R. Hudson, the Southampton, N. Y., detective mysteriously disappeared from his lodgings on Aug.
1st, Mrs. Hudson has written a treatise to the Oakland police.

Mrs. Hudson, with her two children, has been living in Chicago, the missing man's former home, and has received two letters from her husband since his disappearance, written in a wandering, incoherent manner and other evidences of an unbalanced mind. He wrote that he had been attacked and beaten into in-consciousness by seven men, a walk upon the water-front. He said that he had been unconscious for a fortnight and awoke in a San Francisco hospital, but failed to give either the name of the hospital, or any address.

SEARCH FUTILE.

Hudson's friend, W. M. Biggs, who ed with him at his boarding-house, the rents of the hospitals, but no trace of Hudson was found.

Mrs. Hudson says her husband was married fifteen years, and their first separation came with his call to the coast. She believes that worry and responsibility attached to his position, together with his absence from home, has unbalanced his mind. She has received transportation and has left the East to aid in the search.

ND MAIL AT ONCE

ing Telegraph Co.

g, San Francisco, Cal.
I will send me booklet on the graph and telephone and all the TELAUTOPRINT. It incurs no obligation what request.

Telegraphic Messages sent direct from a typewriter keyboard and received at the other end printed as plain as A B C and recorded on both the sending and receiving machines. A boy or girl can send messages. No expert operator required. THAT is the TELAUTOPRINT.

This instrument can be attached to any Western Union, Postal Telegraph, cable, fire or burglar alarm wire, or to the instrument used by Marconi, or any other wireless systems, and the message is received at the other end and recorded in typewriting at the same time, thus doing away with any person to act as receiver. The message is sent by the operator who typewrites the message on a typewriter keyboard. The instant he strikes a letter on his keyboard that same letter is struck on the typewriter at the other end of the line.

Should he strike the letters R-O-O-S-E-V-E-L-L-T, the typewriter at the other end of the line, or at the wireless station, though it be hundreds of miles away, would record these letters exactly, and the word ROOSEVELT would be written on the paper in the machine.

Now you know what the TELAUTOPRINT is and what it can do. Wouldn't you like to know more about this wonderful machine? Wouldn't you like a book that tells all about it? Just send the coupon down in the lower right hand side of this advertisement.

We will send you our booklet entitled, "Messages" which contains twenty-four pages of reading matter that will prove food for thought. We will also send you our booklet, "TELAUTOPRINT," which fully explains the utility of this wonderful electrical machine.

DO IT NOW and we will gladly send you the literature without your incurring the slightest obligation.

Think of the uses of the TELAUTOPRINT and you will see that the whole world is a market.

Eventually every telegraph office on the globe will be equipped with TELAUTOPRINT instruments; every railroad station, weather bureau, light house, steamer, likewise many a business house and even homes.

Of course the TELAUTOPRINT will greatly reduce the amount of labor required for transmitting messages, and that is just why it is going to be universally used.

It takes but little reasoning to see what a great demand there is for the TELAUTOPRINT. The day is near when it will be used as universally as the telephone. And those people who have the wisdom and foresight to see into the future will be the ones to profit through this invention.

Look at the names of the prominent men below, who have advanced the funds for experimental and shop expenses. These men readily saw the value of the TELAUTOPRINT and realized that the only problem was in making the instruments. The field is already created; it is simply a question of supplying the demand. These men backed their judgment with their money. They investigated the TELAUTOPRINT—put it to all kinds of tests—and satisfied themselves thoroughly that the TELAUTOPRINT is a practical machine. If the TELAUTOPRINT were not all that is claimed for it would so many solid business men back it with their money?

These prominent men consent to the use of their names because they know that every investor who becomes a stockholder in this company is going to make money, and be thankful that the sound judgment of these men encouraged him to make the investment.

U. S. WIRELESS PRINTING TELEGRAPH CO.

are now manufacturing this wonderful instrument to supply the demand that has already been created in all parts of the world. The Company has been organized for MANUFACTURING PURPOSES ONLY and will LEASE the instruments to licensed subsidiary companies, who will finance themselves, paying a cash and stock bonus to the parent company—the company you are to own stock in. The TELAUTOPRINT will not be sold under any circumstances.

All the funds necessary for experimental and shop expenses have been advanced by these conservative and solid business men mentioned below, but now that the TELAUTOPRINT has been perfected, we have decided to offer for public subscription a small block of

STOCK AT $5 A SHARE. PAR VALUE $10.

This is done to secure funds to enlarge the manufacturing equipment, distribute the instruments of this wonderful machine, and working capital to keep on with the advanced work. The Company will make as the demand for TELAUTOPRINT instruments increases.

STOCK ADVANCES TO PAR IN A SHORT TIME.

It has a right to go to TEN TIMES PAR on the basis of the dividends it will pay. You understand that money is worth from 4 to 6 per cent. Thus when you purchase the dividends, the earnings are 4 to 6 per cent. each share will make people want it and they will pay big prices for stock, many times its par value.

Now you know our business which tells you much more you will be interested in knowing.

KNOWLEDGE IS THE BEST INVESTMENT BELIEVE

FIRST SERMON BY NEW PASTOR

Rev. White Urges Congregation to Set Example by Christian Lives.

The first Methodist church at the corner of Clay and Fourteenth streets was crowded last night to hear the opening sermon of the Rev. Dr. George W. White, the new pastor.

He gave a heart-to-heart talk to his parishioners.

Dr. White urged the members of his community to set an example to a Christian life that those outside the pale of religious influence should voluntarily seek the kingdom founded on faith and not be dragged in by any preacher or evangelist.

He laid particular stress upon his mission. His main task, as he emphasized continually in his sermon, consisted in uniting and strengthening the bonds of spiritual confidence and intimacy between the flock and shepherd. He regarded spiritual knowledge between minister and layman above all social recognitions and acquaintances. The promotion of religion comes first; that of social life afterwards.

Dr. White has a commanding voice, a good flow of language and imposing presence.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR.
An announcement was made in the church yesterday that a reception will be tendered Dr. White and his wife in the church parlors next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. C. W. Kinsey is the chairman on general arrangements. All the members of the church and friends are earnestly requested to be present on that night.

CHARGE BUSINESS MAN AS FORGER; ARRESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Vague rumors as to the cause of the sudden disappearance August 6 of Gerald A. Courvoisier, business manager of the Commercial News Publishing Company and one of the most popular men in San Francisco business circles, developed yesterday into definite accusations and his arrest at Quincy, in Plumas county on a charge of forgery.

Courvoisier disappeared last month, and on his disappearance the ugly stories as to some of his financial operations began to be circulated. He was said to have forged the name of Judge J. V. Coffey to a note for $500,000, which was suppressed to a certain extent, and thought Judge Coffey denied the signature the matter was dropped.

Other people with whom he had dealings began to investigate quietly. As a result of the investigations the Western National Bank discovered it held a note for $500,000 presented by Courvoisier, and which bore the alleged signature of Victor J. Robertson, president of the Commercial News Publishing Company and W. H. Houston, the company's secretary.

Both Robertson and Houston, however, denied that the signatures were theirs, and the matter was put into the hands of the criminal department of the California Bankers' Association.

Detective Sergeant T. J. Bailey of the local force last night to bring Courvoisier to this city.

Other institutions in this city, it is claimed, have been victimized, and it is claimed that his operations during the last year brought him $500,000.

FRUITVALE WOMAN THROWN FROM BUGGY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—While driving down Market street yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Marie Pagor of Fruitvale was thrown from a buggy which was struck by a Sutter street car. She was thrown some distance and struck the coping with great force. Her husband, who was with her, was uninjured.

Followed by J. Shaughnessy hurried to the woman's rescue, and with the assistance of bystanders carried her back to the vehicle from which she had been thrown and she was taken to the Harbor Emergency Hospital.

At the hospital she was treated by Dr. Diggins. No bones were broken and no external injuries were apparent. The woman, however, was suffering great agony and Dr. Diggins believed she must have received severe internal injuries.

Her husband, Joseph Pagor, was greatly excited over the accident, and was almost hysterical with grief. The buggies live in Fruitvale, at the corner of Maybell avenue and Ohio street, near the Diamond postoffice.

Pagor said they were driving down Market street when the buggy was struck by the Sutter street car and they were thrown from the car into them.

Mrs. Pagor was removed to a private hospital to await the result of her injuries.

MILES CASE TAKEN BEFORE JUDGE WASTE

The case of Fred Miles, a laborer, charged with assault on the person of Mrs. Charlie E. Wally at Livermore, was this morning transferred to Judge Waste's court and all jurors were escorted to that department.

Attorney Rawson, who is defending Miles, asked that the case be postponed for one day, owing to the absence of two witnesses who are beyond reach of a quick subpoena. These witnesses, who are now in Contra Costa county, will be secured and ready for trial tomorrow morning. In the meantime a jury was secured. Judge Waste placed in possession of the facts of the case.

Miles is charged with forcibly dragging Mrs. Wally from a carriage in which she was driving home from a dance, and so abusing her that she almost lost her life. Miles had been discharged from the Olivina winery the morning of the assault on Mrs. Wally, and claims to have gone almost immediately to San Francisco, where he was seen between the hours of 9 and 11 at night at the Denver Hotel. Mrs. Wally, on the other hand, has identified Miles as the man who committed the crime.

STOLE HORSE WHILE DRUNK AND IS SORRY

Louis Berthold, who is charged with the theft of a bay mare and delivery wagon from a man named Sanborn, appeared before Judge Martin this morning for sentence, having pleaded guilty to the charge a week ago. At the request of his attorney, however, the case was continued three weeks, during which time Probation Officer Ruesch will be requested to investigate the case and decide if it is not one for his department. Berthold took the horse and conveyance while under the influence of liquor, and states that there was no malice in the act, as he had no idea what to do with either of them when he regained his senses.

LOWER BROADWAY WANTS LINES OF ELECTROLIERS

Properly-Owned Sign Agreement and Want County to Bear Certain Portion of Expense.

An effort is being made on the part of the residents of Lower Broadway to have that part of the thoroughfare illuminated with the same style of electroliers which are used on the upper part of the driveway. They wish at the same time to have the county stand its share of the expense of introducing the standard electroliers in front of the hall of records and the courthouse.

This disposition was set forth this morning by the presentation to the Supervisors of a petition signed by the residents of the neighborhood, which was signed by all the property owners on the thoroughfare referred to.

TEXT OF AGREEMENT.
"We, each of us, the undersigned property owners and merchants of Broadway, of the city of Oakland, Cal., agree to pay to the city of Oakland, Cal., one dollar and thirty-two cents ($1.32) per front foot for property owned by us and fronting on said Broadway, or frontage signed by us, or names, provided that there shall be erected on the aforesaid Broadway, between First and Seventh streets, Oakland, Cal., within one hundred (100) days from date of the agreement of the city of Oakland, to install and maintain thereon (25) electroliers of the same pattern as those now being installed upon the streets of Oakland."

"Said electroliers to be placed as directed by the Board of Public Works or city electrical engineer of the city of Oakland."

"It is mutually understood that the maintenance of the said electroliers is to be paid by the city of Oakland, otherwise this contract is null and void."

"It is further understood that each is liable only for the amount subscribed, and not one for the other, and further, that each signer of this contract is released from all liens, excepting in the event of the non-payment of the amount herein subscribed."

"It is hereby agreed that the undersigned hereby subscribes and agrees to pay to the said Homer A. Smith the amount set opposite their respective names on demand when the said electroliers are installed and ordered lighted by the city of Oakland."

"Time is of the essence hereof."

SEVERAL OPINIONS.
"This," said Supervisor Kelley, "is the same system of lighting which is in use in the upper part of Broadway, which is now proposed to introduce in the lower part of Broadway. I don't know whether we can light our part of the street, or not."

"There is a question about that," said District Attorney Brown. "It might be referred to me."

"If we can do it with a scratch, I'd like to do it," said Mitchell.

"I would like to have it done, too," declared Kelley.

"It is only another way of advertising," chimed in County Clerk Cook.

"The matter was finally referred to the district attorney."

SENT TO JAIL WITH REBUKE

Husband Who Leaves Young
Wife to Starve Gets Stiff Sentence.

With one of the most scathing rebukes ever administered to a prisoner in this city, Judge Tappan this morning sentenced William Hannemeyer to serve a sentence in the city jail for failure to provide for his young wife and two children. Hannemeyer was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Sternberg, the wife of a prominent real estate man and the aunt of the young wife who has taken her in charge and provide her with the medical and physical attention needed.

It is claimed that Hannemeyer left his girl bride, who is little more than a child herself, alone among strangers to starve, with no clothing and no medical attendance. She is suffering from an incurable disease and his heartless actions under the circumstances so aroused Judge Tappan this morning that he gave the husband a heavy sentence.

JUDGE ANGRY.
"Young man," he said, "I'm sorry that I can't put you on the chain-gang. This is one of the most brutal cases I ever heard of. You married this woman against the wishes of her guardians and made her live a life of filth and poverty, letting her starve for want of proper food and sufficient clothing. It is just such men as you that break up the family circle and destroy the happiness of homes. It is the will of this court that you serve a sentence of five months in jail and I hope your wife is alive when you get out."

There are two children, a girl of 6 and a boy of 2 years, in the Finch Orphanage.

CLERK PROVES GREAT HERO

Postoffice Employee Saves Two Drowning Lads but Loses Own Life.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—A subscription fund is being raised for the family of William Eaton, a clerk in the post office, who, although an invalid, heroically saved two boys from drowning and lost his life from exposure. He was watching boys bathe off the East Seventh street pier when he saw John Schuck and George Maloney being carried by the tide.

Eaton plunged into the water and succeeded in bringing both lads to the pier. As he lifted the second one to the ladder which leads to the pier, he fell back into the water. The watchman of the pier went to his rescue in a row boat but Eaton was dead when the boat reached him. Eaton leaves a widow and seven children.

$150 STOLEN FROM BED.

C. F. Ninkhouse reports that while he was registering at the Hotel Crollin last evening some one stole his suit case, containing a white vest and a box of blacking, from the counter.

SAY OFFICER NEGLECTS DUTY

Policeman Lawrence Charged
With Unbecoming Conduct in
Aiding Striking Carmen.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Policeman Edward F. Lawrence thought that he was a much abused officer when he was taken before the commissioners a week or so ago on a charge of unbecoming conduct in wrongfully arresting a non-union caddy and booking him on a charge of drunkenness. The commissioners took his case at that time under advisement and it is to be settled Thursday. But there is more and worse trouble in store for Lawrence.

This morning he was suspended by Chief Biggy pending the result of new charges which have been preferred against him by Captain Duke of the Southern station. Lawrence is regularly attached to the Park district but since the recent trouble attending the cur strike he has been doing duty in the Southern station.

Last week, it is charged, that he deliberately turned his back on two men who were assaulting a non-union carman of the Kentucky street line. Bystanders say that the officer was watching the car and that when he saw the two men make a lunge at the motorman he deliberately turned on his heel and walked away.

Chief Biggy says that this is an offense he will not put up with under any circumstances and that no matter what sympathies a man might have in the present industrial situation he must do his duty first, last and all the time.

TRAIN ROBBER CONVICT IS ALLEGED INNOCENT

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 22.—Jack Kennedy of Kansas City, called the "quail hunter," and serving a twenty-five-year sentence in the penitentiary for holding up a St. Louis and San Francisco passenger train at Macomb, Mo., seven years ago, will soon be a free man if the efforts of his friends succeed.

J. T. Neville, circuit judge, State Senator P. M. McDevia and Dr. C. B. Eldridge went to Jefferson City last night to appeal to Governor Folk to pardon Kennedy. They will, it is stated, make the claim that Kennedy is innocent, producing new evidence.

CHINESE MAKES WAY WITH WOMAN'S PURSE

Minni Tostaki, a Japanese woman from Winnemucca, was robbed of $50 while en route to this city by a Chinese, to whom she had entrusted her purse for safe-keeping. The Chinaman, Ah Shung, left the train at the Sixteenth street station, saying that he was going to see some friends, and would return. When he failed to show up the woman reported the matter to the police.

HORSE GORED BY FAST AUTO

Swift Animal so Severely Injured
That He Is Shot by Constable.

"Mixer," a faithful horse which belonged to T. B. Freeman of 407 Tenth street, forfeited his life yesterday to a runaway automobile owned by Stuart Elliot of Stockton.

He was shot by Constable William C. Allen when it was discovered that his wounds were beyond surgeon's aid.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman were exercising "Mixer" near Fitchburg yesterday afternoon when the automobile approached from behind. Swerving to avoid another team in the road Elliot drove his machine into the side of the animal, forcing "Mixer" to his knees and inflicting several severe wounds in his side. The chauffeur did not stop, but giving his name to the owner of the horse, sped on toward San Jose.

"Mixer" has a trotting record of 2:10 and it is stated that he had been placed in 2:16, this later being secured at Concord in 1906. He was in training for the fall meet at this place.

SAY OFFICER NEGLECTS DUTY

Policeman Lawrence Charged
With Unbecoming Conduct in
Aiding Striking Carmen.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Policeman Edward F. Lawrence thought that he was a much abused officer when he was taken before the commissioners a week or so ago on a charge of unbecoming conduct in wrongfully arresting a non-union caddy and booking him on a charge of drunkenness. The commissioners took his case at that time under advisement and it is to be settled Thursday. But there is more and worse trouble in store for Lawrence.

This morning he was suspended by Chief Biggy pending the result of new charges which have been preferred against him by Captain Duke of the Southern station. Lawrence is regularly attached to the Park district but since the recent trouble attending the cur strike he has been doing duty in the Southern station.

Last week, it is charged, that he deliberately turned his back on two men who were assaulting a non-union carman of the Kentucky street line. Bystanders say that the officer was watching the car and that when he saw the two men make a lunge at the motorman he deliberately turned on his heel and walked away.

Chief Biggy says that this is an offense he will not put up with under any circumstances and that no matter what sympathies a man might have in the present industrial situation he must do his duty first, last and all the time.
